DRAFT BYLAWS FOR NEW FARM BUREAU

Organization Committee, Representative of Townships, in Session in This City.

FARM EXCHANGE PROPOSED

Purpose of Association is to Bring About Closer Co-operation Between Agriculturalists.

Members of the organization committee of the proposed County Farm Bureau met at the Farmers' Club this afternoon for the purpose of drafting a constitution and by-laws for the new association. The committee was appointed last Saturday at a general meeting held at the court house with instructions to complete the preliminary organization plans and report back to the general meeting at the court house next Saturday.

The members of the committee meeting here are:

Driftwood, Henry Hackman; Grassy Fork, Roy Smart; Washington, Frank Linké; Vernon, Curtis Weismann; Jackson, O. E. Carter; Carr, D. B. Hill; Hamilton, Holmes Robertson; Redding, Adam Fox; Salt Creek, A. S. DeLong; Owen, James Martin; Brownstown, Henry Lucas.

County Agent A. D. Cobb presided at the meeting. He explained that it was his opinion that the constitution and by-laws should be simple yet comprehensive but framed in such a way that they will bring together all the forces of agricultural industry in the county. The primary purpose of the organization, it is explained, is to bring about closer cooperation among those who are engaged in the same lines of pursuit for their mutual benefit. Through the proposed organization it is hoped that the demonstration and organization work which is already under way can be advanced. The County Bureau will embrace all the inter-organizations of the county, yet will not interfere with any of them.

The organization will act as an advisory board to the county agent's department. Officers and directors have already been elected and they will co-operate with the county agent and discuss with him such work as he may have in mind for the advancement of agricultural activities.

One of the first things to be attempted by the organization is the promotion of a farm exchange which will be open to farmers who desire to dispose of crops or even their farms. A step has already been taken in this direction by the county agent. In one section of the county several farmers have about a car load of cow peas which they desire to sell and have been unable to secure the price which they believe they should get. The county agent has notified the agents in Illinois, Ohio, and Missouri that a car of cow peas is ready for sale here and quotes prices on the car load lot and also in smaller quantities. In this way the departments are working in conjunction and if any of the agents in the states in this section of the country know of farmers who desire to buy cow peas they will take up the matter of the sale with the local agent. It is pointed out that the seller can get a better price in this way than he probably would have secured from a dealer and the buyer would be saved the middleman's profit.

The Bureau also proposes to conduct an employment agency. If farmers are in need of help at certain times of the year they can report to the exchange and get in touch with persons who desire work and who have filed their names in advance.

In order to conduct the bureau a nominal membership fee will be charged to defray the expenses of postage and other incidentals. In some counties the fee is as high as $10 but it has been suggested that it not exceed $2 in this county. County Agent Cobb is endeavoring to make arrangements whereby the members of the bureau can become members of the state corn growers' association when the membership fee is paid. An attempt is also being made to get a subscription to the "County Agent," a farm magazine for each member without additional fees.

DOG OWNERS AWAIT NEXT MOVE IN CASE

Police Will Make no Systematic Effort to Enforce Ordinance Until Decision is Given.

COUNCIL'S RIGHT QUESTIONED

Many of Opinion That Council is Not Vested With Authority to Make Such Regulation.

Pending the outcome of the case which was filed in city court yesterday to test the validity of the new ordinance prohibiting dogs from running at large on the streets in this city, the police will make no systematic effort to enforce the regulations. Until a decision of this case is given the defendants could appeal to the circuit court and the decision in the test case would apply to all similar actions so nothing would be gained by filing affidavits at this time.

The test case is that filed against Clarence Hopewell and it is understood that a number of dog owners are back of the defendant. Mr. Hopewell reiterated today that he intended to fight the case until the final decision was given which is taken to mean that an appeal will be taken to the circuit court if an adverse decision is given in the city court. It is probable that the case will be carried to the supreme court if the defendant should lose in the circuit court. It is known that a number of dog owners question the right of the council to pass such an ordinance and that ample funds have already been provided to fight the case.

It is stated that as soon as the ordinance became effective a number of dog owners started a subscription with the understanding that they would make no attempt to comply with the ordinance and that the first one to be charged with violating the regulations would make such proceeding a test case and that the funds already collected would be used in employing an attorney. All dog owners are equally interested in the case and are anxious to see the ordinance defeated.

The case has not yet been set for trial as the defendant has not made arrangements with his attorney. However, it is expected that the lawyer will appear in city court this afternoon or Monday and announce what action he will take. The case will be tried in local court and then an appeal taken should the defendant lose.

Those who are interested in the case suggest that the attorneys for the city and the defendant submit the case on an agreement of facts. Mr. Hopewell does not deny that the dog was on the streets. He will admit practically everything in the affidavit but questions the right of the council to enact such an ordinance. This leaves the case purely one of law and for this reason a statement of facts may be presented to the court and arguments given on points of law. The question, it is explained, is whether or not the legislature has ever vested a city council with the power to prevent dogs from running at large on the public highways.

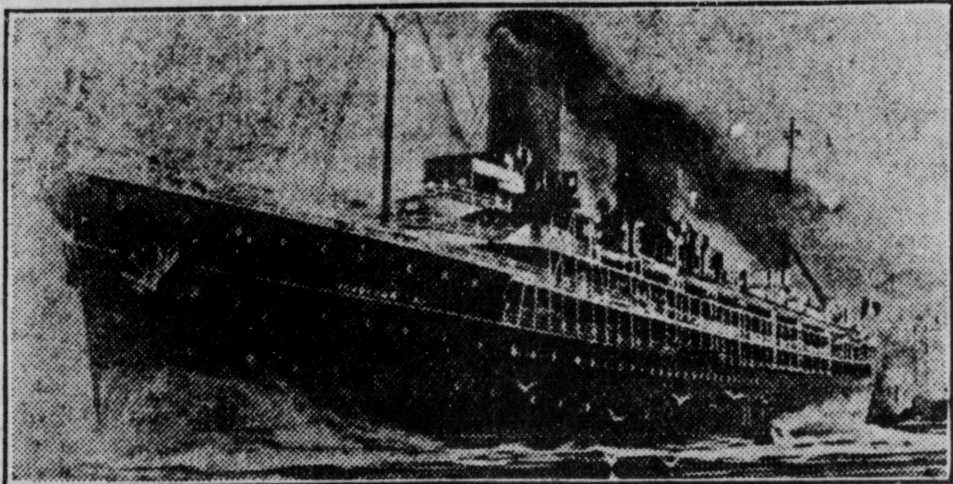

One councilman stated today that he was inclined to believe that the council does not have the right to pass such regulations. The law specifically gives the right to city governing bodies to prohibit stock from running at large in the streets and alleys and it is questioned if this can be interpreted to include dogs. The councilman, however, said that in his opinion there is no doubt but that the council has the authority to require owners to pay a license for their dogs. He suggested that if the majority of the council desires to keep dogs from the streets, if the present ordinance is held invalid, the license fee may be increased to $50 or $100. This would make the harboring of dogs practically prohibitive within the city as only a comparatively few owners would want to pay that amount each year as a license.

French Cruiser La Provence Sunk in Mid Mediterranean

Paris, March 4.—It was announced at the French ministry of marine that there were nearly 4,000 on board the French auxiliary cruiser Provence when she was sunk in the Mediterranean on Feb. 26. As the ministry of marine had announced that the number of survivors was estimated at 870, it is indicated by the foregoing dispatch that upwards of 3,130 lives were lost.

GREEN FOUND GUILTY BY JURY OF INTOXICATION

Fine of $1 is Assessed and Court Costs Will Amount to About $90—Two Days' Trial.

After deliberating about four hours the jury in the case of the State of Indiana against Sam Green, charged with intoxication, brought in a verdict of guilty about 8 o'clock Friday evening.

A fine of $1 with costs of the trial was fixed. The case was on trial in circuit court Thursday and Friday. Green was arrested here on Hallows' evening by Police Bruce Stewart.

The deputy clerk has been tabulating the list of expenses which will fall on Green as a result of the trial and finds that the costs will aggregate $90. Some of the witnesses called to testify did not file for fees, while others presented their claims including railroad fare from this city. The court costs do not include the attorneys' fees.

Before the trial Dan Green, the defendant's father, said that he was prepared to carry the case to the supreme court if a reversible error could be found in the record, but late today a motion for a new trial had not been made. The trial court must first refuse a second trial before the appeal can be taken.

BALLOTS DISTRIBUTED TO PRIMARY INSPECTORS

Sealed Packages Delivered From the Office of the County Clerk—Various Forms.

Inspectors for the various voting precincts went to Brownstown today and received from County Clerk Willard Stout their quota of ballots and supplies for the primary next Tuesday. The ballots were sorted out and sealed in packages Friday by the members of the county election board. The ballots were distributed according to the vote in each precinct at the last election and one and one-half as many ballots were sent to each precinct as votes were cast in the previous election.

In distributing the ballots it was necessary to send into each precinct an equal number of each form. For instance where five candidates are seeking the same nomination the name of each appeared at the top of the list an equal number of times. The ballots are then distributed so that each precinct would receive an equal number of each form. This required a vast amount of work of the most exacting kind. After the inspectors received their ballots they are responsible for them until they are delivered to the voting places and the seals broken in the presence of the entire board.

Letter of Washington Found In Paper Published in 1777

A newspaper published in 1777, now yellow with age, has fallen into the possession of Mrs. Haskell Lett, West Third street, having been given to her by a cousin after being carefully preserved for several generations. Recently Mrs. Lett's cousin was offered $50 for the paper, but it was refused as it had been in the family for almost 139 years. The paper is much heavier than used by newspapers of today but despite its age the type is still readable. Where the paper was folded it has been worn in two and care is necessary in handling it to prevent the sheets from breaking. It is a four page paper.

The paper is known as the Pennsylvania Packet or General Advertiser and was issued from the office in Philadelphia, July, 29, 1777. Its columns are filled with entirely different reading than is found in the publications of the present time. A note by the publisher states that the paper is sold for fifteen shillings a year. It contains a brief synopsis of the laws which were passed by the governing body of the state and carried many notices of rewards for runaway slaves.

One notice states that "the subscriber" will pay $10 for the return of a "deserter" and another offers

$8 as the reward for the return of a slave.

One of the interesting news "stories" in the issue is a letter signed by "G. Washington," in which he explains about an offer to exchange Mayor Prescott for Major-General Lee. The officers were captured and Washington gave his consent to the exchange. The letter further stated that arrangements were made for the exchange of other prisoners with the British.

An unusual notice was under the signature of John Witherspoon and states that students "repairing to Princeton" to enter college will take their own books with them as "there are no books in Princeton."

The paper has been seen by a number of Mrs. Lett's friends and the pages have been read with interest. Mrs. Lett's mother was born in Philadelphia and the paper was originally owned by her.

The old paper is a valuable addition to the interesting collection of family relics which have been gathered by Mrs. Lett. Among the articles which she prizes highly are two plates which are 175 years old. The collection includes two old Bibles, the marriage certificate of her great-great-grandmother and many other articles which will become more valuable as their age increases.

MEYER CRITICIZES NAVY DEPARTMENT

Former Secretary of Navy Says U. S. Coasts are Open to Invasion of the Enemy.

GENERAL STAFF IS NEEDED

Urges National Council of Defense by Congress and Enlistment of 50,000 Men.

By United Press. New York, March 4.—"If war should be declared tomorrow morning our navy under Josephus Daniels would be absolutely impotent to check the invasion of our coasts," declared former secretary of the navy, George Von L. Meyer, here today.

"Congress is talking war," said Meyer, "Thanks to the incompetency of Mr. Daniels, war tomorrow with any one of four European nations would find the way open to the enemy. The public has not yet realized the deplorable condition of our navy. Demoralization has already attacked the personnel, because military efficiency has not been Daniels' goal."

Meyer said the navy has no tested war plan or tested mobilization plan, no general staff, has insufficient ammunition, enlisted men and officers and no enlisted reserve.

"Instead of upbuilding the efficiency of the navy," he said, "Daniels' hobby has been rather to teach navy fighters 'readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic.'"

Meyer called for the immediate authorization of a general staff and a national council of defense by congress, an increased navy, enlistment of 50,000 men and the passage of an immediate act to build four battle cruisers at a speed no less than thirty knots.

AMERICANS TRAVEL ON ARMED SHIPS AT THEIR OWN PERIL

Five Senators Join in Continuance of Attack on Administration's Policy.

By United Press. Washington, March 4.—If three Americans—Charles Bellows and wife, of Brooklyn, and W. W. Nichols, of Chicago, who sailed on the armed liner, Canopus, from New York today, should come to their death as a result of a torpedo attack they are victims of their bravado and the United States should not go to war over them, was the sentiment expressed on the floor by five senators today.

Jones, McCumber, Cummings, Hitchcock and Clapp joined in a continuance of yesterday's assault on the administration's policy which they said would force the nation into war if any one reckless American was killed.

"The American people do not understand fine spun international law but they can see the awful injustice of asking us to send 100,000,000 to war to pay for the criminal bravado and recklessness of these persons," said Jones.

CRITICIZES NEWSPAPERS FOR RESIGNATION RUMOR

By United Press. Washington, March 4.—The White House issued the following statement today:

"When Secretary Tumulty's attention was called to the story appearing in certain papers that the President had resigned or was considering resigning," he said, "An American newspaper that would publish a story of that kind in a situation like the one which now confronts America dishonors itself."

VOTE IN HOUSE TO BE TAKEN TUESDAY

Postponement Announced by Administration's Supporters After Day of Wrangling.

DIVISION OVER PROCEDURE

Indiana Congressmen Exhibited Delight as "Shown Down" Might be Embarrassing in Primary.

By United Press. Washington, March 4.—Division among the President's supporters in the house broke out today. After several of his friends had mapped out a program to postpone until Monday the vote in the house on the McLeMore resolution because of the absence of members, a number of others, including Representatives Shirley, Allen and Glass began a fight to force a vote today, claiming that the muddle created by the senate vote should immediately be cleared up.

Shirley and his coterie, "immediate action advocates," were loud in their condemnation of any postponement and immediately after that program was announced started canvassing the rules committee to ascertain whether they could muster enough adherents there to have the rule reported this afternoon for immediate consideration of the McLeMore measure.

Acting Chairman Pou of the rules committee admitted that the resolution might yet be brought before the house in view of the strength of the immediate action advocates.

Speaker Clark said he thought the matter would go over until Monday but was not sure until he conferred with the leaders. Clark's private office was the scene of many conferences with the leaders including Pou.

Strong sentiment among the house membership developed in favor of immediate action. The Republicans appeared willing to take the vote today.

Some administration leaders declared that postponement was an indirect slam at the President who in his letter to Pou asked prompt action.

Particularly because of the widespread doubt of the real effect of the senate vote, the house administration leaders were insisting upon the vote today to dispel any confusion from the senate's action and immediately line up the house behind the President.

The house of representatives will not vote until Tuesday on the question of whether congress would interfere with the President on the conduct of international problems.

After a day of perplexity over what the senate's action yesterday really amounted to, a threatened division over procedure and a fight within their own ranks as to when to force the vote, the administration supporters finally announced the postponement.

The announcement was received with unceasing delight by the Indiana delegation as the vote will come on the day they go before the people for renomination. They feared that the president's request for a shown down would force them into an embarrassing position at home in the primary and their attitude was one factor in securing the postponement. The wide difference of opinion in the rules committee—the body that must pave the way for the vote on the McLeMore resolution—was mainly responsible for the delay but the absence of many members was a factor.

In the senate there was another wordy wrangle over the meaning of yesterday's vote. McCumber predicted the time would come soon when the issue would be decided by a straight out vote.

HIGH SCHOOL IN EASY WIN OVER BROWNSTOWN, 54 TO 12

Locals Have Little Trouble in Winning From County Seat Boys—Prepare for Tournament.

The high school basket ball team had little trouble in running up a big score on Brownstown high school last evening in the first encounter of the two teams. The score was 54 to 12, and but for poor goal shooting in the first half would have been much more. Time after time the ball bounced all around the rim, hesitated, and refused to drop inside. It was not until the period was half over that the locals could find the range, and after that the goals came thick and fast. The half ended 24 to 9. In the second period the locals showed to better advantage and displayed some good team work. Summer was out of the local line up on account of sickness, and Pettus and Mackey were used, each playing a half.

The Brownstown players played a strictly defensive game, and their only hope seemed to be to keep down the local's score as low as possible. They guarded closely and seemed to be intent only on keeping the man opposite them from breaking away. Ackerman eluded his man and ran up a total of thirteen baskets.

Summary:
Seymour (54) Brownstown (12)
Boyles F. Vermilya F.
Pettus F. Newkirk F.
McCurdy C. Martin C.
Ackerman G. Brodhecker G.
Riley G. Weathers, G.

Field goals: Seymour, Boyles 5, Pettus 3, McCurdy 2, Mackey 3, Ackerman 13. Brownstown, Vermilya 3, Martin 1, Weathers 1.

Foul goals: Seymour, Ackerman 2. Brownstown, Weathers 2.

Substitutes, Seymour, Mackey for Pettus. Brownstown, Tatlock for Weathers, Spurgeon for Brodhecker, McElfresh for Martin.

RICHMOND EXPECTS TO TAKE TOURNAMENT GAME

Newcastle Quintette Showing Up in Fine Form and May be Formidable Contender.

By United Press.
Richmond, Ind., March 4.—Richmond, Newcastle, Brookville, Liberty, and Hagerstown, these are the five strongest teams in this section that will take part in the sectional tournament to be held in this city March

10-11. Fans in this city are predicting a victory for the Richmond high school five although the other quintettes are strong contenders.

Just now Newcastle seems to have best chance to take the high honors away from Richmond.

The lads from the Rose City are showing better form now than at any previous time this season and they are figured by neutral writers as one of the strongest teams in this section.

Richmond, although it has defeated Newcastle this year, still fears the Henry county team, and will take no chance if the two fives meet. If Richmond and Newcastle mix in the final game for district honors, and this is what every dopster figures, it is certain to be a stiff battle.

The game is sure to be a heavy guarding game, at which Pitts, the big Richmond main stay and Ross, the diminutive Newcastle floor guard, are expected to shine. The followers of the two teams are depending on these men to lead in the defensive work.

Basket Ball Notes.

The game last night was the last on the card before the tournament games, which come next Friday and Saturday. The local team will work out hard next week and endeavor to be in the best possible shape for the games as they confidently expect to be returned winners.

In the preliminary encounter of the evening the second team of the high school won from Farmington by a score of 25 to 6. There are several promising young players on the second team and the outlook for good material for next year is bright.

The Brownstown team deserves much credit for the good work they have done under adverse circumstances. All of the players are new at the game and as there is no gymnasium at their school building, they have had to rent a hall in which to practice and play. The boys had been expecting to enter in the tournament games here next week, but for some reason the school officials failed to send in their entry.

In a double header event at the Lutheran club last night the Lutherans won from an independent team styling themselves the "Mysterious Five," by a score of 24 to 10, while the Methodist S. S. Juniors defeated the Lutheran Juniors, 25 to 9.

The State High School Athletic Association meets at Indianapolis today to arrange the schedules for the sectional tournaments which are to be held next Friday and Saturday. Twelve teams were expected to play here, but with the failure of Brownstown to qualify the list stands at eleven, which may possibly be smaller when the schedule committee makes its report, as it is not known whether any other of the teams have decided not to enter or not.

County Agent A. D. Cobb has been coaching the Brownstown team during his spare time, and has done good work with them. Cobb studied basket ball along with farming at Purdue, and knows considerable about both.

URGES THAT INDIANA MONEY BE SPENT WITHIN THE STATE

Head of Society for Prevention of Tuberculosis Tells of Outside Demands.

By United Press.
Indianapolis, March 4.—Severance Burrage, president of the Indiana Society for the prevention of tuberculosis, to-day issued a warning to Hoosiers against sending money out of Indiana. Various associations are canvassing Indiana for out-of-state institutions, and it is the claim of the local people that in some cases most of the money contributed goes to salaries and office expenses.

"Do not send money designed for tuberculosis prevention to other states, as the Indiana problem is large and sixty-two local associations are doing able and increasingly effective work," said Burrage.

Burrage commented on the activities of the Children National Tuberculosis Society of Chicago which is maintaining canvassers to sell a magazine in Indiana. He said the National Association for the study and prevention of the tuberculosis has investigated the Chicago Society and found that only about one cent of ten contributed is used in tuberculosis work.

Evansville Celebration.

By United Press.
Evansville, Ind., March 4.—All of Evansville's clubs and associations joined hands to-day for the local celebration of Baby Week, which is a national affair. Out-of-town lecturers will be heard and baby will come into its own. The slogan adopted is, "This is a business proposition, not charity."

Commendation and Praise for

James E. Watson

Republican Candidate for
U. S. Senator

Every person who was a voter in 1908 knows what were the factors in that campaign, and that Mr. Watson went through that campaign against most discouraging odds.

He did not falter, but made one of the most memorable political campaigns in the history of our state. He was made the target of the opposition and bore the burden of that fight as very few men could have done. Of course, he suffered in that campaign, but he did not complain. He manfully fought the battle of the Republican party. It ill becomes any one familiar with that campaign to attempt to use its results to injure Mr. Watson at this time. He should have commendation and praise and not adverse criticism, for this magnificent campaign.

Will some of these gentlemen who are trying to prove all things by figures tell us what man in Indiana would have made a more brilliant campaign or a better showing than did Mr. Watson in 1908? Ability, integrity and a pleasing personality are three requisites for a candidate and a representative of the people. Does not Mr. Watson possess these essential qualifications to an unusual degree?

Mr. Watson, for many years, has spoken in every county in Indiana. Will any one say that he ever injured the cause he represented or that the voters were not stronger in their Republicanism after hearing him? His ability to present and defend Republican doctrines is recognized throughout the Nation itself. These facts are so well known by the voters that their recital seems unnecessary. Yet, in the heat of political contests, the friends of candidates sometimes allow their zeal to carry them too far and erroneously imagine they are rendering their favorite a service by indulging in unfriendly criticism of opposing candidates.

Unwise and unworthy methods should not be used in nomination contests, but we should all recognize our party obligation, and realize that party harmony means party strength.

SENATE ACTION HELPS WILSON

Will Aid Him In Negotiations With Berlin.

PRESIDENT IS SATISFIED

House Committee Held Stormy Meeting, But Votes to Report Out Resolution—Administration Now Free to Press Demands on Germany.

Washington, March 4.—By an overwhelming vote the senate killed Sen. McLeary's resolution to warn American belligerent ships, and decided to let the world that it is the policy of that body that congress will not interfere with the executive in the conduct of international affairs. Following the action of the senate, the house foreign affairs committee ordered a report of the McLeary resolution with an amendment that the same be laid on the table.

The amendment was incorporated in the McLeary resolution admonishing the president to take no steps in his negotiations with Germany that would likely to plunge the country into war without first submitting all the facts to congress.

The house will vote on the McLeary resolution and the administration is confident that it will be tabled by a big majority. The two houses having thus sustained the president in his right to handle foreign affairs without interference by the lawmaking department, administration officials say that Mr. Wilson will be free to press his negotiations with Berlin without the fear of possible restraint by congress.

The vote in the senate on the bitter controversy aroused between the president and opponents of his foreign policy in congress was taken on the resolution as amended by Sen. McLeary.

In its original form the resolution simply warned Americans against travel on the armed ships of belligerents.

In its amended form the resolution set forth the declaration that the sinking of an armed merchantman without warning by a German submarine, resulting in the loss of American life, would be a cause for war between the United States of Germany.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota offered a substitute resolution, requiring Americans to keep off armed ships traversing the danger zones.

Senator James, Kentucky, who was the leader of the administration forces, brought the affair to a head by a motion to table the Gore and McCumber resolutions and all amendments. This was carried by a vote of 68 to 14.

Only two Democrats voted against the administration. They were Senators O'Gorman, New York, and Chamberlain, Oregon.

At the White House officials expressed satisfaction with the record vote in the senate and with the action taken by the house foreign affairs committee. Officials appeared confident that the result would be to strengthen the president's position in his dealings with Berlin.

The circumstances under which the vote on the amended Gore resolution was taken in the senate were dramatic in the extreme. Senators were keyed up to a high pitch of excitement and the crowded galleries were tense with the expectancy of action possibly fraught with serious consequences in the relations between the United States and Germany.

The meeting of the house foreign affairs committee was a stormy one. The report of the committee was made possible by the inclusion of a statement that the committee knows the president will advise congress when he is approaching the end of his rope in the negotiations with Germany. The vote in committee was a viva voce vote. It was understood that only two members voted against the report as finally drawn.

Aiding in the solidifying of the committee was the statement by Chairman Flood that the president did not propose to rush this country into war, and that he intended to advise congress if the situation becomes so critical that a breach with Germany is feared.

INVOLVES POLICE IN BANK ROBBERY PLOT

Chicago Detectives Accused By Prisoners.

Chicago, March 4.—Charles Kramer, one of four defendants on trial here for the $15,000 robbery of the Washington Park National bank, on the witness stand named Captain Nicholas Hunt of the Chicago detective department, Sergeant Tom Sheehan of the same department and Harry Kavanaugh, director of the bank, as participants in the alleged conspiracy which, the defendants say, led them to rob the bank.

Captain Hunt was to receive a diamond stickpin "for keeping his mouth shut about the robbery." Kramer testified, and Mack left the bank robbers' automobile five minutes after the holdup with the $15,000 intended for Sheehan.

Kramer pictured Mack as the "brains" of the quintet that robbed the bank and as an intimate of Detective Sergeant Sheehan. Shortly before Christmas, Kramer testified, Mack left $25, representing part of the loot of five thefts, at a cafe for Sheehan.

Alfredo Caturegli, Mexican consul general here.

"I have been officially informed by Ambassador Arredondo that I have sufficient evidence to prove that Francisco De La Barra has been sent to the United States to take an active part in stirring another revolution to overthrow Carranza and an effort will be made to have the United States government arrest him, as was done with General Huerta," said Dr. Caturegli.

The recommended plan provides for five retarding basins and channel improvements through Dayton, Troy, Piqua, West Carrollton, Mimaiburg, Chautauqua, Franklin, Middletown and Hamilton, insuring protection against floods 40 per cent greater than in 1913 when hundreds of lives were lost and $200,000,000 worth of property destroyed.

Nothing That Congress Can Do to Provide Officers Can Remedy the Situation at Once, Declares the Commander-in-Chief.

Washington, March 4.—Only fifteen of the twenty-four battleships of the Atlantic fleet are on active duty in West Indian waters, three of the other six being so crippled for lack of officers and men that they can not operate with the fleet and the other three awaiting or undergoing extensive repairs.

The fifteen active ships are short from eight to seventeen officers each of the number assigned to them by the navy department, and 1,000 coal passers, electricians, gunners' mates and other trained enlisted men, although they have aboard about 100 more men than the total personnel allowed by regulations.

This was the situation of the fleet as pictured by Admiral Fletcher, commander-in-chief, before the house naval committee. He added that in his opinion and that of various boards of officers who had studied the subject, the battleship squadrons of the active fleet required at least 5,000 additional men over the complements now assigned. The shortage in the various ratings, he explained, however, would not materially injure the efficiency of the fleet were it called upon immediately to engage an enemy.

The lack of officers was the most serious aspect, Admiral Fletcher thought, because it requires ten years to train a competent lieutenant or lieutenant commander. Nothing that congress, much less the navy department, can do, he said, can remedy the situation at once. Many suggestions as to how the training of young officers might be hastened had been advanced, he added, but in his opinion the only effective and logical way would be to increase the Annapolis cadet corps to 2,000 men and await their development.

Admiral Fletcher devoted his entire day before the committee to questions of personnel under questioning by Representatives Roberts, Britten, Kelley and Farr. The conflicting figures as to ship's complements presented by the bureau of navigation, the general board and Admiral Fletcher himself were discussed at length.

HOLDING WEALTHY WOMAN

Accused of Kidnapping Children From Divorced Husband.

Newcastle, Ind., March 4.—Charged with kidnapping her own children, Mrs. Minnie Storey, twenty-nine, was arrested here by the local police at the request of the police of Worcester, Mass.

Mrs. Storey arrived here a week ago accompanied by the children, a boy of nine and a girl eleven. Mrs. Storey and her husband are divorced and the custody of the children was given to Storey.

The Worcester police allege Mrs. Storey sent a note to school requesting permission to see her children and that when they left the schoolroom she hustled them away in a waiting automobile.

The children cling to their mother and beg that they be not taken from her. Mrs. Storey declares she will fight requisition. The Storeys are said to be wealthy.

INDICT BREWING COMPANY

Pittsburg, March 4.—The United States Brewers' association, with offices in New York, and one hundred brewing companies, all of Pennsylvania, were indicted by the United States grand jury, which has been investigating contributions by the liquor interests to political campaign funds.

The indictments charge principally conspiracy by the brewing companies in the unlawful expenditure of money in federal elections. No individuals are mentioned in the indictments. A million and a half dollars in fines can be collected in convictions obtained.

Springfield, O., March 4.—W. S. Wilson, seventy-nine, banker and manufacturer, died at his home here, following an attack of heart trouble.

GERMANS AGAIN ATTACK VERDUN

Reach Douaumont After Violent Fighting.

BEGIN GENERAL OFFENSIVE

Attack on Village of Vaux Is Hurdled Back by the French—Heavy Artillery Fire in Whole Region North of Verdun.

London, March 4.—In a resumption of the fighting about Douaumont, north of Verdun, the Germans succeeded in reaching the village of Douaumont, which lies to the north of the fort, where several hundred Brandenburg troops have been surrounded for some days.

"We cleared the village of Douaumont of the enemy," the German official statement says, "and pushed our line to the west and south of the village, as well as of the armored fort, to more favorable positions."

The communique issued by the French war office admits that the Germans had been successful in penetrating the village and says that the fighting is continuing with ferocity, and adds:

"A lively counter attack launched by us enabled us to regain ground, on the immediate outskirts of the village."

To the east of Douaumont the Germans attacked the village of Vaux, which lies to the north of the permanent field works of Vaux. This attack, made at about the same time as the attack on the village of Douaumont, comprised assaults from the north and northeast. The Germans reached the French wire entanglements, but were then forced back by the fire curtain of the French artillery and machine gun fire, leaving a large number of dead.

The whole region to the north of Verdun, on both sides of the Meuse and in the Woivre, has been subjected to heavy artillery fire by both sides in the past twenty-four hours. The French guns concentrated their fire on a number of German points of assembly and dispersed a column on the march near Beaumont, to the north of Douaumont.

Considerable activity is also reported from other points of the front. In upper Alsace, east of Seppois, the French assumed the offensive and took several trench elements on the right bank of the Grand Jargue. The Germans organized a counter attack, but failed to regain the lost ground.

There is a marked discrepancy between the day's British and German reports regarding the situation on the Ypres-Comines canal, where the British recovered the territory recently lost to the Germans and also penetrated the original German positions. The report received from British headquarters in France says that these gains, including two hundred yards of the original German trenches have been consolidated and that five officers and 249 men are taken prisoners. The German statement, however, admits that the British still retain some parts of the "bastion."

Southwest of La Bassee, near the Hohenzollern redoubt, the British exploded five mines and occupied the craters, one of which contains the main shaft of an enemy mine organization.

Scattered artillery, aerial and patrol activity is reported from a number of other points on the front.

LYMAN'S BOND IS $100,000

New York Swindler Unable to Give Bail—Goes to Jail.

New York, March 4.—The greatest amount of bail ever required in the federal district court here in the case of a man awaiting trial was fixed in the case of Dr. John Grant Lyman, who was held by Judge A. G. Dayton in $100,000 bail on an indictment charging use of the mails to defraud. Lyman was not successful in obtaining a bond and was sent to the Tombs.

Lyman has scored one victory, however. He was released by Judge Augustus N. Hand, in the motion part of the federal district court, from the necessity of testifying in the United States commissioner's court in the bankruptcy proceeding of the John H. Putnam & Co.

ARREST NEW YORK REPORTER

Refused to Give Source of Information of Story Published.

New York, March 4.—Leonard R. Holmes, a reporter for the New York Times, was ordered arrested for contempt by the congressional committee investigating impeachment charges brought against United States District Attorney Marshall by Congressman Frank Buchanan of Illinois.

In an account of the investigation which appeared in the Times, it was stated that it was the belief of the district attorney's office that "the real aim of the congressional investigation is to put a stop to the criminal investigation of the pro-German partisans."

When the committee met Congressman Charles Carlin, the chairman, asked Holmes to take the witness stand. Holmes was then asked the source of his information on which the account in the Times was based. On his refusal to answer, he was ordered arrested and put in custody of the United States marshal.

SHERIFF SAVES THIEF FROM ANGRY FARMERS

Is Hustled Off to Prison Within Two Hours.

Warsaw, Ind., March 4.—Two hours after he entered the home of Mrs. Ralph Remy, robbed her at the point of two revolvers and left her gagged and bound to a chair, Charles O'Brien, twenty-five years old, was on his way to the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville to serve a sentence of from ten to twenty years for burglary. The arrest and conviction established a new record in Kosciusko county.

O'Brien, a tramp, visited the Remy home, three miles south of Warsaw, during the absence of the husband. He carried a gun in each hand and ordered Mrs. Remy to produce some money, hurrying her by declaring that he was a "bad man" and might shoot. The woman gave O'Brien $1.75, and when she told him it was all she had O'Brien bound her hands and feet securely with binder twine. He used a corner of a bed comfort as a gag. After tying her to a chair he left the house and cut the telephone wires, taunting Mrs. Remy with the assertion that if he met her husband he would kill him.

Mrs. Remy succeeded in removing the gag and freed herself by chewing the rope which bound her hands. She rushed to a neighbor's house and notified the officers. A posse was organized and started in pursuit, threatening to inflict mob law. In the meantime Sheriff Jacob Huffer hurried to the scene in an automobile and captured O'Brien before the enraged farmers overtook the man.

He was taken into court immediately and sentenced. O'Brien gave his home as Philadelphia.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE BITLIS Fortified City in Armenia Taurus, Held by Turks Falls. London, March 4.—The Russians took by storm the fortified city of Bitlis, in the Armenian Taurus. Bitlis lies 110 miles south of Erzerum, the great Armenian fortress. The army of Grand Duke Nicholas has thus covered within a little more than two weeks more than one-fourth of the distance from Erzerum to Bagdad, which is about 500 miles. With the capture of Bitlis the menace to the Mesopotamian capital becomes more threatening and relief for the still surrounded main British army at Kut-El-Amara assumes the light of a not far distant possibility.

The Russians captured at Bitlis six Turkish guns and many prisoners, among them seventeen officers, one a regimental commander.

DIAZ MOVES ON MEXICO CITY

Forces Capture of Four-Fifths of Railroad Entering Capital.

New Orleans, La., March 4.—Forces of General Felix Diaz are moving upon Mexico City from the east and south, according to a cablegram received here.

The message stated that General Diaz is personally leading his army from Tierra Colorado, Vera Cruz. He has captured four-fifths of the Inter-Oceanic railroad, which runs between Vera Cruz and the capital. Small bands of Carranza troops are joining the new revolutionary movement, the cablegram said, and Diaz is in control of one-fourth of Mexico. Salina Cruz is reported to have been taken by General Andreu Almazan, who is planning to move upon Puerto Mexico next.

Washington, March 4.—Secretary of Labor Wilson has appointed a commission to investigate and report on the wage rate and conditions of employment on the construction work of the Alaskan railway.

Miner Killed by Electric Wire.

Princeton, Ind., March 4.—Earl Stewart, age twenty-six, a driver in the Princeton mine, was killed when a car jumped the track and pinned him against an electric wire. He was dead before he could be released. A widow and a small child survive.

MAILS BY THE AIR PLEASE AVIATORS

Expert Describes Machines Government Would Need.

TO CONQUER WINTER'S ICE.

Routes in Alaska and Massachusetts Could Be Covered In All Kinds of Weather With Aviation Service—Officials Think a Tremendous Amount of Money Would Be Saved.

Aviators of the country are looking with pleasure toward the scheme that the United States proposes to conquer the rigors of Massachusetts bay and ice imprisoned Alaska in order to get the mails through to sections that are usually isolated during the winter. The postoffice department has asked bids for contracts and machines to carry the mails in these sections.

If this plan proves successful it will go far to determine the practical use of aeroplanes in wartime, and the United States is said to be utilizing this scheme to determine the best kind of air craft for use during conflicts.

Charles A. Wright of Riverton, N. J., is the president of the Aviation league, which trains young men to fly. He is an enthusiast in aviation and regards the proposed federal mail scheme as a sane way to carry the mails, but he takes issue with the federal bids in calling for aeroplanes of the description included in the proposals.

Heavier Machines Needed.

"This plan is workable," said Mr. Wright, "but the government should at least be prepared to spend $5 a mile on the experiment. However, to carry such mails as Uncle Sam wishes the government must construct heavier machines than any that are in use in this country."

"Only one machine was ever built in this country that would fulfill the requirements—the America, built by Rodman Wanamaker to cross the Atlantic. This machine has a carrying capacity of 4,500 pounds, which is 1,500 in excess of that demanded by the government. The America cost $90,000 to build. This makes the cost of a suitable machine alone three times as great as the United States wishes to pay."

"The practical use of the aeroplane as a commercial factor is in the air, so to speak. It costs too much to use them in this way just now, though in the European war they are demonstrating their value in every possible manner, especially in being the men-of-war of the air."

R. W. Knight, vice president of the Aviation league, coincided with President Wright's remarks, but added that it would be an easy matter to get plenty of machines that could transport 500 pounds of mail easily.

Routes and Service.

The routes and character of service now advertised and the cost of the present service follow:

MASSACHUSETTS.

From New Bedford by Wood's Hole and Oak Bluffs to Nantucket, fifty-six miles and return, thirteen times a week from June 15 to Sept. 14 and six times a week during the remaining nine months of the year; weight limit, 3,000 pounds per trip; cost of present service, $23,000 a year.

ALASKA.

From Valdez to Fairbanks, 358 miles, three times a week all the year for transportation of 1,600 (or 3,000) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $17,580 a year.

From Fairbanks to Tanana, 162 miles, three times a week all the year, for transportation of 1,600 (or 2,000) pounds of mail each trip; running time, twenty-four hours; cost of present service, $23,153.84 a year.

From Tanana to Kaltag, 381 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 800 (or 1,600) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $37,723.49 a year.

From Kaltag to Nome, 225 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 600 (or 1,200) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $15,950 a year.

From Seward to Iditarod, 380 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 1,000 (or 2,000) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $22,865 a year.

From Iditarod to Nome, 280 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 800 (or 1,600) pounds of mail each trip; running time, twenty-four hours; cost of present service, $24,862.12 a year.

From Seward to Anchorage, 110 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 500 (or 1,000) pounds of mail each trip; running time, ten hours; cost of present service, $4,320 a year.

If the exacting weather conditions and weight requirements of the Massachusetts route can be met by aerial carriers it presents an excellent opportunity for improvement of mail service by these means.

Need of improvement of the Alaskan mail service is clear, and it is believed the aeroplane offers a practical means of providing better facilities there.

HIGH SCHOOL IN EASY WIN OVER BROWNSTOWN, 54 TO 12

Locals Have Little Trouble in Winning From County Seat Boys—Prepare for Tournament.

The high school basket ball team had little trouble in running up a big score on Brownstown high school last evening in the first encounter of the two teams. The score was 54 to 12, and but for poor goal shooting in the first half would have been much more. Time after time the ball bounced all around the rim, hesitated, and refused to drop inside. It was not until the period was half over that the locals could find the range, and after that the goals came thick and fast. The half ended 24 to 9. In the second period the locals showed to better advantage and displayed some good team work. Summer was out of the local line up on account of sickness, and Pettus and Mackey were used, each playing a half.

The Brownstown players played a strictly defensive game, and their only hope seemed to be to keep down the local's score as low as possible. They guarded closely and seemed to be intent only on keeping the man opposite them from breaking away. Ackerman eluded his man and ran up a total of thirteen baskets.

Summary:

Seymour (54)	Brownstown (12)
Boyles F.	Vermilya F.
Pettus F.	Newkirk F.
McCurdy C.	Martin C.
Ackerman G.	Brodhecker G.
Riley G.	Weathers, G.

Field goals: Seymour, Boyles 5, Pettus 3, McCurdy 2, Mackey 3, Ackerman 13. Brownstown, Vermilya 3, Martin 1, Weathers 1.

Foul goals: Seymour, Ackerman 2. Brownstown, Weathers 2.

Substitutes, Seymour, Mackey for Pettus. Brownstown, Tatlock for Weathers, Spurgeon for Brodhecker, McElfresh for Martin.

Referee, Hendershot.

RICHMOND EXPECTS TO TAKE TOURNAMENT GAME

Newcastle Quintette Showing Up in Fine Form and May be Formidable Contender.

By United Press.

Richmond, Ind., March 4.—Richmond, Newcastle, Brookville, Liberty, and Hagerstown, these are the five strongest teams in this section that will take part in the sectional tournament to be held in this city March

10-11. Fans in this city are predicting a victory for the Richmond high school five although the other quintettes are strong contenders.

Just now Newcastle seems to have best chance to take the high honors away from Richmond.

The lads from the Rose City are showing better form now than at any previous time this season and they are figured by neutral writers as one of the strongest teams in this section.

Richmond, although it has defeated Newcastle this year, still fears the Henry county team, and will take no chance if the two fives meet. If Richmond and Newcastle mix in the final game for district honors, and this is what every dopster figures, it is certain to be a stiff battle.

The game is sure to be a heavy guarding game, at which Pitts, the big Richmond main stay and Ross, the diminutive Newcastle floor guard, are expected to shine. The followers of the two teams are depending on these men to lead in the defensive work.

Basket Ball Notes.

The game last night was the last on the card before the tournament games, which come next Friday and Saturday. The local team will work out hard next week and endeavor to be in the best possible shape for the games as they confidently expect to be returned winners.

In the preliminary encounter of the evening the second team of the high school won from Farmington by a score of 25 to 6. There are several promising young players on the second team and the outlook for good material for next year is bright.

The Brownstown team deserves much credit for the good work they have done under adverse circumstances. All of the players are new at the game and as there is no gymnasium at their school building, they have had to rent a hall in which to practice and play. The boys had been expecting to enter in the tournament games here next week, but for some reason the school officials failed to send in their entry.

In a double header event at the Lutheran club last night the Lutherans won from an independent team styling themselves the "Mysterious Five," by a score of 24 to 10, while the Methodist S. S. Juniors defeated the Lutheran Juniors, 25 to 9.

The State High School Athletic Association meets at Indianapolis today to arrange the schedules for the sectional tournaments which are to be held next Friday and Saturday. Twelve teams were expected to play here, but with the failure of Brownstown to qualify the list stands at eleven, which may possibly be smaller when the schedule committee makes its report, as it is not known whether any other of the teams have decided not to enter or not.

County Agent A. D. Cobb has been coaching the Brownstown team during his spare time, and has done good work with them. Cobb studied basket ball along with farming at Purdue, and knows considerable about both.

URGES THAT INDIANA MONEY BE SPENT WITHIN THE STATE

Head of Society for Prevention of Tuberculosis Tells of Outside Demands.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, March 4.—Severance Burrage, president of the Indiana Society for the prevention of tuberculosis, to-day issued a warning to Hoosiers against sending money out of Indiana. Various associations are canvassing Indiana for out-of-state institutions, and it is the claim of the local people that in some cases most of the money contributed goes to salaries and office expenses.

"Do not send money designed for tuberculosis prevention to other states, as the Indiana problem is large and sixty-two local associations are doing able and increasingly effective work," said Burrage.

Burrage commented on the activities of the Children National Tuberculosis Society of Chicago which is maintaining canvassers to sell a magazine in Indiana. He said the National Association for the study and prevention of the tuberculosis has investigated the Chicago Society and found that only about one cent of ten contributed is used in tuberculosis work.

Evansville Celebration.

By United Press.

Evansville, Ind., March 4.—All of Evansville's clubs and associations joined hands to-day for the local celebration of Baby Week, which is a national affair. Out-of-town lecturers will be heard and baby will come into its own. The slogan adopted is, "This is a business proposition, not charity."

Commendation and Praise for
James E. Watson
Republican Candidate for
U. S. Senator

Every person who was a voter in 1908 knows what were the factors in that campaign, and that Mr. Watson went through that campaign against most discouraging odds.

He did not falter, but made one of the most memorable political campaigns in the history of our state. He was made the target of the opposition and bore the burden of that fight as very few men could have done. Of course, he suffered in that campaign, but he did not complain. He manfully fought the battle of the Republican party. It ill becomes any one familiar with that campaign to attempt to use its results to injure Mr. Watson at this time. He should have commendation and praise and not adverse criticism, for this magnificent campaign.

Will some of these gentlemen who are trying to prove all things by figures tell us what man in Indiana would have made a more brilliant campaign or a better showing than did Mr. Watson in 1908? Ability, integrity and a pleasing personality are three requisites for a candidate and a representative of the people. Does not Mr. Watson possess these essential qualifications to an unusual degree?

Mr. Watson, for many years, has spoken in every county in Indiana. Will any one say that he ever injured the cause he represented or that the voters were not stronger in their Republicanism after hearing him? His ability to present and defend Republican doctrines is recognized throughout the Nation itself. These facts are so well known by the voters that their recital seems unnecessary. Yet, in the heat of political contests, the friends of candidates sometimes allow their zeal to carry them too far and erroneously imagine they are rendering their favorite a service by indulging in unfriendly criticism of opposing candidates.

Unwise and unworthy methods should not be used in nomination contests, but we should all recognize our party obligation, and realize that party harmony means party strength.

(Signed) R. T. ST. JOHN.

Judge of the Circuit Court of Grant County, Indiana, for many years.

(Judge St. John has been a Republican since the birth of the party. He voted for Vermont in 1856 and Lincoln in 1860, and every Republican President since that time.)

GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

By ERNEST O. SELLERS
Director of Sunday School Course
Moody Bible Institute

THE ROCKEFELLERS AND THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

BOTH the elder and the younger J. D. Rockefeller are active workers and supporters of the Sunday school movement. Mr. Rockefeller, senior, has been a life-long member of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church of Cleveland, where, for many years he was the active superintendent of the school and where he still holds the position of honorary superintendent. Mrs. Rockefeller, who recently died, was likewise actively in charge of the primary work and in her latter years was honorary superintendent of that department in the school at Cleveland. Their children were brought up in that school, played in the orchestra, taught classes and otherwise joined with their parents in supporting the work.

Mr. Rockefeller, junior, is the teacher of a celebrated men's class connected with the Fifth Avenue Baptist church of New York city, a class of the utmost democracy, enthusiastically recommended by all who attend it and are familiar with its methods of work. No other two men in American life are more closely observed and criticized than these and while no one will say that all of their acts are without fault, yet those who know them the most intimately have the least criticism to offer. The well-known labor leader, Mother Jones, has recently spoken most highly of the younger man after her famous interview with him in New York. No one has ever accused either of these men as being riotous, high livers or of engaging in the profligate vices of the very rich. Neither is given to sports, yachts, race horses or other methods frequently used to display and dispose of great wealth.

Of late Mr. Rockefeller, senior, has not given the same attention to the school as formerly, but he does make it his habit to attend briefly each Sunday and not infrequently speaks a word of advice or encouragement to the school as a whole. No one who knows either father or son to any limited degree personally, would ever accuse either of any ulterior motive in this matter, but will be convinced that each sees in the Sunday school work an opportunity to be of service to their fellow men.

ONE HUNDRED LEADING HOOSIERS 1816-1916

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.)

JAMES WHITCOMB (10)
1795-1852

"The student of Indiana history will look in vain for a more eminent name than that of James Whitcomb." (Woolen) He was descendant of a famous New England family of Puritans, and spent his boyhood on a farm near Cincinnati, Ohio. Opposed to farm labor, he was frequently reprimanded by his father who feared for the boy's future. Young Whitcomb was recognized as the most omnivorous reader of his community, and often hired his brothers to do his work, promising them in return that he would some day donate them a farm. This promise he literally fulfilled in 1852. Graduating from Transylvania University, he was admitted to the Kentucky bar in 1832. Two years later he moved to Bloomington and there gained early recognition in his profession. For six years he was a member of the state senate, and served as chairman of the judiciary committee. Andrew Jackson appointed him congressman of the United States land office. Finding many of the early land grants written in the French and Spanish language, Whitcomb mastered these tongues. He continued to hold his position under Van Buren's administration.

BUSINESS ON SUNDAY CLOSING.

Heads of the big industrial concerns of Chicago see a very direct relation between the enforcement of the Sunday-closing law and the physical and mental condition of their employees on Mondays, and naturally they are not inclined to agree with the liquorites' caustic criticism of the puritanical, undemocratic law and its enforcement. The men who manage the great industries tell us that Sunday drinking has meant lessened efficiency, decreased mental and moral stamina, depreciated physical vigor and the wasting of money and consequent worry over financial conditions.

"Our workmen now come to the plants on Monday morning with clear heads and rested bodies," said a foreman of Armour and Co., the big packing house. "It was the complaint of all packers before the saloons were closed that many of the men either did not show up at all on Monday or reported with 'hangovers' that reduced their efficiency 50 per cent during the day, and affected it for several days thereafter. Now the men are on hand Monday morning with steady muscles, rested bodies and minds, fit for their tasks."

"Our workmen were all on hand last Monday for the first time in years," said one of the foremen of the Illinois Steel company, the week after the Sunday-closing law was enforced. "When we asked them what caused the change they said they had nothing to do Sunday but rest for Monday. Besides, most of them had enough of their wages left not to need to ask for advances before the next week ended."

"The closing of the saloons is a boon to industry," said one of the department managers of the International Harvester works. "When the employees have had time to note its effect, they will give it their heartiest support."

"The direct effect on the building trades is that about 25 per cent more workmen were on hand last Monday than at any time during the period I have been handling large numbers of workmen," said a member of the Contractors' Association of Painters and Decorators.

PROSPEROUS WITHOUT LIQUOR.

Butler, Mo., is another town which is demonstrating that prosperity follows prohibition. It is today, says the Kansas City Star, "a better, richer and more prosperous town than ever. The merchants carry more stocks business houses are neater, cleaner and better; the people live in better and more attractive homes and enjoy life in more rational and healthful ways. There are fewer idle people and merchants have fewer bad debts.

"When the saloons were voted out Butler had a bonded debt of something like $20,000 on its electric light plant, and notwithstanding the 'revenue' from its four saloons, it was a hard matter to meet interest payments, and the liquidation of the principal seemed a long way off. Since the closing of the saloons the debt has been paid and many needed public improvements have been made, and all without increasing the tax rate one penny. In fact the tax rate is now lower than ever before."

MONEY GOES FOR GROCERIES.

An interesting bit of testimony comes from the section of Minnesota which recently became dry through what might be called an automatic application of prohibition to a region where no election was held to settle the question, namely, the enforcement of an old Indian treaty. Because of this action there is not now an open saloon in Itasca county, and as a result a marvelous reformation has taken place. One year ago seventy-nine tons of beer were shipped in. This year there was no beer, but the books show that seventy-nine tons more of groceries were consumed at this point than during the corresponding month of last year. The Minneapolis Journal says that the records of the mining companies, which employ the large population of foreigners, show fewer layoffs among the men than ever before and the stores report larger and more profitable business from these employees.

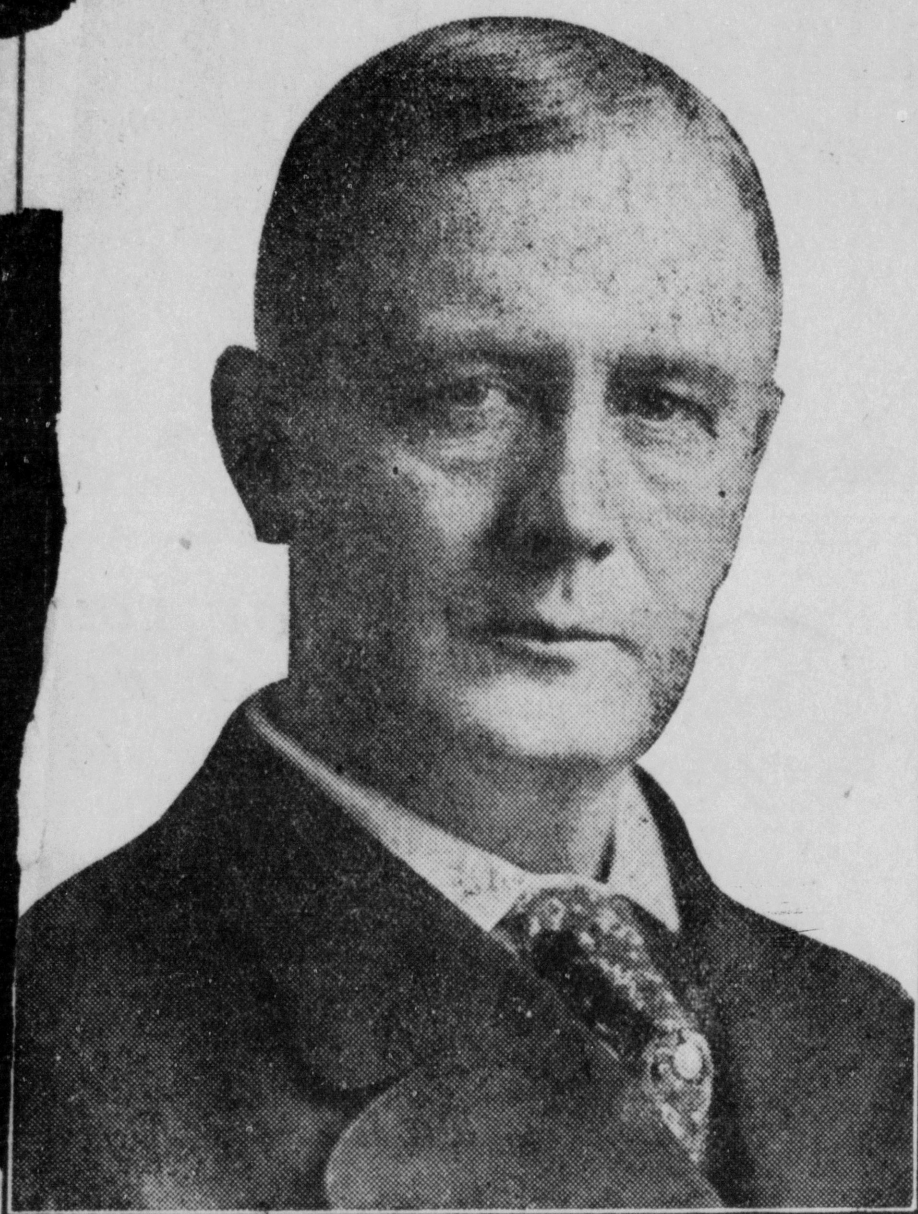

A WISE CZAR.

A German general, taken prisoner, related at Petrograd the following remarks of the kaiser: "I was certain of crushing the Russians when they were freely given to drink, but now that they are sober the task is much more difficult!" And he added in a melancholy tone, "Who on earth could have foreseen the anti-alcohol coup d'etat perpetrated by Nicholas II?"

ALCOHOL A DEGENERATE.

There is not one drop of alcohol in nature. Alcohol is produced by decomposition of sugar, by leaven and ferment. It is of low birth, a degenerate. It is the decomposition of vegetables, fruits, grain or sawdust. It is the garbage of plant life; the offcast of vegetation's functional processes; the

BABIES HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN NATIONAL BABY WEEK

Over 2,000 Cities in the United States
Arrange Celebrations—Plans in Wisconsin.

By United Press.

Washington, March 4.—Babies of four colors and two nationalities were the center of attraction in 2,029 communities in the United States, Alaska, the Philippines, Canada and the British West Indies to-day. They will hold the spotlight for the succeeding six days of National Baby Week, inaugurated by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and sponsored by the Federal Children's Bureau.

The babies don't know it, but they are the reason for hundred of nursing courses, child welfare exhibits, window decorating contests, bazaars, essay contests and general meetings planned during the week in the United States and its possessions, not to mention again Canada and the British West Indies.

Wisconsin proposed a state-wide campaign to place emphasis on adequate nursing, care and instruction for prospective mothers. Texas has its own Baby Week slogan; "baby health in Texas wealth." Mississippi has a slogan of its own. North Dakota is holding an essay contest in public schools. A Colorado settlement 40 miles from a railroad, a woman's club on a western reclamation project, a Montana coal mining town with a large foreign population, a southern mill village and several farm women's clubs are holding celebrations.

Child welfare exhibits were prepared by women's clubs in Omaha and Lincoln. These will be sent throughout Nebraska. A Maryland town will have a birth registration day; a merchant has promised a tooth brush to every mother who goes to the city hall to find whether her baby's birth is registered. Another city inaugurated a competition for the cleverest window plan.

Manila will have its meetings during the week; the babies on two Indian reservations will be brought from their wigwams, if their parents still affect wigwams, to share in the enlightenment, and to blink boldly during tribal conferences concerning them.

Albany, Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Philadelphia, Richmond, San Francisco, Washington and other large cities have programs. New York will have a baby week of its own late this Spring. Many rural communities have announced their intention to participate.

Plans differ, in some respects, in all of the 2,000 cities. But if all the celebrations are the successes the Children's Bureau believes they will be, International Baby ought to rise several points before the market closes next Saturday.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Seymour Improvement Company will be held at the city building Monday, March 6, 1916, at 8 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing seven (7) directors, receiving the report of the officers and attending to such other business as may come before the meeting. Dividend checks will be distributed.

Our stock is large and includes all the favored fabric, weave and color. Owing to the difficulty in getting desired silks this season, our buyers "got busy" early and were fortunate in getting these excellent goods at moderate prices.

We can not—too strongly—urge early selections. While stock is complete now—and every effort is being made to maintain completeness—yet, the situation has become serious, and many weaves and patterns are now off the market.

We believe these facts will appeal to your better judgement if you need silks or dress goods.

SENATE ACTION HELPS WILSON Will Aid Him In Negotiations With Berlin.

PRESIDENT IS SATISFIED

House Committee Held Stormy Meeting, But Votes to Report Out Resolution—Administration Now Free to Press Demands on Germany.

Washington, March 4.—By an overwhelming vote the senate killed Senator McCumber's resolution to warn America against belligerent ships, and to advise to the world that it is the policy of that body that congress should not interfere with the executive in the conduct of international relations. Following the action of the senate, the house foreign affairs committee ordered a report of the McCumber warning resolution with a recommendation that the same be laid on the table.

An amendment was incorporated in the McCumber resolution admonishing the president to take no steps in his negotiations with Germany that would likely to plunge the country into war without first submitting all the facts to congress.

The house will vote on the McCumber resolution and the administration is confident that it will be tabled by a big majority. The two houses having thus sustained the president in his right to handle foreign affairs without interference by the lawmaking department, administration officials say that Mr. Wilson will be free to press his negotiations with Berlin without the fear of possible restraint by congress.

The vote in the senate on the bitter controversy aroused between the president and opponents of his foreign policy in congress was taken on the resolution as amended by Senator Gore himself.

In its original form the Gore resolution simply warned Americans against travel on the armed ships of belligerents.

In its amended form the resolution set forth the declaration that the sinking of an armed merchantman without warning by a German submarine, resulting in the loss of American life, would be a cause for war between the United States of Germany.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota offered a substitute resolution, requiring Americans to keep off armed ships traversing the danger zones.

Senator James, Kentucky, who was the leader of the administration forces, brought the affair to a head by a motion to table the Gore and McCumber resolutions and all amendments. This was carried by a vote of 68 to 14.

Only two Democrats voted against the administration. They were Senators O'Gorman, New York, and Chamberlain, Oregon.

At the White House officials expressed satisfaction with the record vote in the senate and with the action taken by the house foreign affairs committee. Officials appeared confident that the result would be to strengthen the president's position in his dealings with Berlin.

The circumstances under which the vote on the amended Gore resolution was taken in the senate were dramatic in the extreme. Senators were keyed up to a high pitch of excitement and the crowded galleries were tense with the expectancy of action possibly fraught with serious consequences in the relations between the United States and Germany.

The meeting of the house foreign affairs committee was a stormy one. The report of the committee was made possible by the inclusion of a statement that the committee knows the president will advise congress when he is approaching the end of his rope in the negotiations with Germany. The vote in committee was a viva voce vote. It was understood that only two members voted against the report as finally drawn. Aiding in the solidifying of the committee was the statement by Chairman Flood that the president did not propose to rush this country into war, and that he intended to advise congress if the situation becomes so critical that a breach with Germany is feared.

INVOLVES POLICE IN BANK ROBBERY PLOT

Chicago Detectives Accused By Prisoners.

Chicago, March 4.—Charles Kramer, one of four defendants on trial here for the $15,000 robbery of the Washington Park National bank, on the witness stand named Captain Nicholas Hunt of the Chicago detective department, Sergeant Tom Sheehan of the same department and Harry Kavanaugh, director of the bank, as participants in the alleged conspiracy which, the defendants say, led them to rob the bank.

Captain Hunt was to receive a diamond stickpin "for keeping his mouth shut about the robbery," Kramer said. Eddie Mack, confessed bank robber and state's witness, told the four defendants. Sergeant Sheehan was to receive a tenth of the loot, Kramer testified, and Mack left the bank robbers' automobile five minutes after the holdup with the $1,500 intended for Sheehan.

REGULATE FOOD PRICES

Berlin Issues Orders to Conserve Supply of Foodstuffs.

Berlin (via London), March 4.—Potato growers who hold back potatoes until they are expropriated in the future will lose by such action, under the new regulations adopted by the federal council.

Heretofore, 30 marks extra have been paid on expropriation as the "taking over price," but this sum from now on will be reduced in the hope of compelling a better distribution to the consumer.

The minister of the interior has issued orders that restaurants may serve only a single meat course.

In the kingdom of Wuerttemberg beer cards will be introduced March 9, allowing 125 grams weekly per capita.

An order issued at Vienna requires that 20 per cent. of corn meal be added by bakers to rye and wheat bread after March 6.

NEW MEXICAN REVOLUTION

This One Is Headed by La Barra, Is Said.

New York, March 4.—Francisco Leon De La Barra, former provisional president of Mexico and ambassador to the United States has come to this country to organize another revolution in Mexico to depose Carranza, according to advices sent to Carranza's ambassador designate, Eliza Arredondo, at Washington, by Dr. A. Alfredo Catueregli, Mexican consul general here.

"I have been officially informed by Ambassador Arrandondo that I have sufficient evidence to prove that Francisco De La Barra has been sent to the United States to take an active part in stirring another revolution to overthrow Carranza and an effort will be made to have the United States government arrest him, as was done with General Huerta," said Dr. Catueregli.

PLAN FLOOD PROTECTION

Miami Valley, Ohio, District Will Spend About $23,539,872.

Dayton, O., March 4.—The official plans for the protection of the Miami valley against floods are now before the directors of the Miami valley conservancy district with the maximum cost estimated at $23,539,872.

The recommended plan provides for five retarding basins and channel improvements through Dayton, Troy, Piqua, West Carrollton, Mimaiburg, Chautauqua, Franklin, Middletown and Hamilton, insuring protection against floods 40 per cent greater than in 1913 when hundreds of lives were lost and $200,000,000 worth of property destroyed.

U. S. NEEDS MORE OFFICERS

Admiral Fletcher Pictures Fleet Situation.

ASKS FOR 5,000 MORE MEN

Nothing That Congress Can Do to Provide Officers Can Remedy the Situation at Once, Declares the Commander-in-Chief.

Washington, March 4.—Only fifteen of the twenty-four battleships of the Atlantic fleet are on active duty in West Indian waters, three of the other six being so crippled for lack of officers and men that they can not operate with the fleet and the other three awaiting or undergoing extensive repairs.

The fifteen active ships are short from eight to seventeen officers each of the number assigned to them by the navy department, and 1,000 coal passers, electricians, gunners' mates and other trained enlisted men, although they have aboard about 100 more men than the total personnel allowed by regulations.

This was the situation of the fleet as pictured by Admiral Fletcher, commander-in-chief, before the house naval committee. He added that in his opinion and that of various boards of officers who had studied the subject, the battleship squadrons of the active fleet required at least 5,000 additional men over the complements now assigned. The shortage in the various ratings, he explained, however, would not materially injure the efficiency of the fleet were it called upon immediately to engage an enemy.

The lack of officers was the most serious aspect, Admiral Fletcher thought, because it requires ten years to train a competent lieutenant or lieutenant commander. Nothing that congress, much less the navy department, can do, he said, can remedy the situation at once. Many suggestions as to how the training of young officers might be hastened had been advanced, he added, but in his opinion the only effective and logical way would be to increase the Annapolis cadet corps to 2,000 men and await their development.

Admiral Fletcher devoted his entire day before the committee to questions of personnel under questioning by Representatives Roberts, Britten, Kelley and Farr. The conflicting figures as to ship's complements presented by the bureau of navigation, the general board and Admiral Fletcher himself were discussed at length.

HOLDING WEALTHY WOMAN

Accused of Kidnapping Children From Divorced Husband.

Newcastle, Ind., March 4.—Charged with kidnapping her own children, Mrs. Minnie Storey, twenty-nine, was arrested here by the local police at the request of the police of Worcester, Mass.

Mrs. Storey arrived here a week ago accompanied by the children, a boy of nine and a girl eleven. Mrs. Storey and her husband are divorced and the custody of the children was given to Storey.

The Worcester police allege Mrs. Storey sent a note to school requesting permission to see her children and that when they left the schoolroom she hustled them away in a waiting automobile.

The children cling to their mother and beg that they be not taken from her. Mrs. Storey declares she will fight requisition. The Storeys are said to be wealthy.

INDICT BREWING COMPANY

Pittsburg, March 4.—The United States Brewers' association, with offices in New York, and one hundred brewing companies, all of Pennsylvania, were indicted by the United States grand jury, which has been investigating contributions by the liquor interests to political campaign funds.

The indictments charge principally conspiracy by the brewing companies in the unlawful expenditure of money in federal elections. No individuals are mentioned in the indictments. A million and a half dollars in fines can be collected in convictions obtained.

GERMANS AGAIN ATTACK VERDUN

Reach Douaumont After Violent Fighting.

BEGIN GENERAL OFFENSIVE

Attack on Village of Vaux Is Hurdled Back by the French—Heavy Artillery Fire in Whole Region North of Verdun.

London, March 4.—In a resumption of the fighting about Douaumont, north of Verdun, the Germans succeeded in reaching the village of Douaumont, which lies to the north of the fort, where several hundred Brandenburg troops have been surrounded for some days.

"We cleared the village of Douaumont of the enemy," the German official statement says, "and pushed our line to the west and south of the village, as well as of the armored fort, to more favorable positions."

The communique issued by the French war office admits that the Germans had been successful in penetrating the village and says that the fighting is continuing with ferocity, and adds:

"A lively counter attack launched by us enabled us to regain ground, on the immediate outskirts of the village."

To the east of Douaumont the Germans attacked the village of Vaux, which lies to the north of the permanent field works of Vaux. This attack, made at about the same time as the attack on the village of Douaumont, comprised assaults from the north and northeast. The Germans reached the French wire entanglements, but were then forced back by the fire curtain of the French artillery and machine gun fire, leaving a large number of dead.

The whole region to the north of Verdun, on both sides of the Meuse and in the Woivre, has been subjected to heavy artillery fire by both sides in the past twenty-four hours. The French guns concentrated their fire on a number of German points of assembly and dispersed a column on the march near Beaumont, to the north of Douaumont.

Considerable activity is also reported from other points of the front. In upper Alsace, east of Seppois, the French assumed the offensive and took several trench elements on the right bank of the Grand Jargue. The Germans organized a counter attack, but failed to regain the lost ground.

There is a marked discrepancy between the day's British and German reports regarding the situation on the Ypres-Comines canal, where the British recovered the territory recently lost to the Germans and also penetrated the original German positions. The report received from British headquarters in France says that these gains, including two hundred yards of the original German trenches have been consolidated and that five officers and 249 men are taken prisoners. The German statement, however, admits that the British still retain some parts of the "bastion."

Southwest of La Bassée, near the Hohenzollern redoubt, the British exploded five mines and occupied the craters, one of which contains the main shaft of an enemy mine organization.

Scattered artillery, aerial and patrol activity is reported from a number of other points on the front.

LYMAN'S BOND IS $100,000

New York Swindler Unable to Give Bail—Goes to Jail.

New York, March 4.—The greatest amount of bail ever required in the federal district court here in the case of a man awaiting trial was fixed in the case of Dr. John Grant Lyman, who was held by Judge A. G. Dayton in $100,000 bail on an indictment charging use of the mails to defraud. Lyman was not successful in obtaining a bond and was sent to the Tombs. Lyman has scored one victory, however. He was released by Judge Augustus N. Hand, in the motion part of the federal district court, from the necessity of testifying in the United States commissioner's court in the bankruptcy proceeding of the John H. Putnam & Co.

ARREST NEW YORK REPORTER

Refused to Give Source of Information of Story Published.

New York, March 4.—Leonard R. Holmes, a reporter for the New York Times, was ordered arrested for contempt by the congressional committee investigating impeachment charges brought against United States District Attorney Marshall by Congressman Frank Buchanan of Illinois.

In an account of the investigation which appeared in the Times, it was stated that it was the belief of the district attorney's office that "the real aim of the congressional investigation is to put a stop to the criminal investigation of the pro-German partisans."

When the committee met Congressman Charles Carlin, the chairman, asked Holmes to take the witness stand. Holmes was then asked the source of his information on which the account in the Times was based. On his refusal to answer, he was ordered arrested and put in custody of the United States marshal.

SHERIFF SAVES THIEF FROM ANGRY FARMERS

Is Hustled Off to Prison Within Two Hours.

Warsaw, Ind., March 4.—Two hours after he entered the home of Mrs. Ralph Remy, robbed her at the point of two revolvers and left her gagged and bound to a chair, Charles O'Brien, twenty-five years old, was on his way to the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville to serve a sentence of from ten to twenty years for burglary. The arrest and conviction established a new record in Kosciusko county.

O'Brien, a tramp, visited the Remy home, three miles south of Warsaw, during the absence of the husband. He carried a gun in each hand and ordered Mrs. Remy to produce some money, hurrying her by declaring that he was a "bad man" and might shoot.

The woman gave O'Brien $1.75, and when she told him it was all she had O'Brien bound her hands and feet securely with binder twine. He used a corner of a bed comfort as a gag. After tying her to a chair he left the house and cut the telephone wires, taunting Mrs. Remy with the assertion that if he met her husband he would kill him.

Mrs. Remy succeeded in removing the gag and freed herself by chewing the rope which bound her hands. She rushed to a neighbor's house and notified the officers. A posse was organized and started in pursuit, threatening to inflict mob law. In the meantime Sheriff Jacob Huffer hurried to the scene in an automobile and captured O'Brien before the enraged farmers overtook the man.

He was taken into court immediately and sentenced. O'Brien gave his home as Philadelphia.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE BITLIS

Fortified City in Armenia Taurus, Held by Turks Falls.

London, March 4.—The Russians took by storm the fortified city of Bitlis, in the Armenian Taurus. Bitlis lies 110 miles south of Erzerum, the great Armenian fortress. The army of Grand Duke Nicholas has thus covered within a little more than two weeks more than one-fourth of the distance from Erzerum to Bagdad, which is about 500 miles. With the capture of Bitlis the menace to the Mesopotamian capital becomes more threatening and relief for the still surrounded main British army at Kut-El-Amara assumes the light of a not far distant possibility.

The Russians captured at Bitlis six Turkish guns and many prisoners, among them seventeen officers, one a regimental commander.

DIAZ MOVES ON MEXICO CITY

Forces Capture of Four-Fifths of Railroad Entering Capital.

New Orleans, La., March 4.—Forces of General Felix Diaz are moving upon Mexico City from the east and south, according to a cablegram received here.

The message stated that General Diaz is personally leading his army from Tierra Colorado, Vera Cruz. He has captured four-fifths of the Inter-Oceanic railroad, which runs between Vera Cruz and the capital. Small bands of Carranza troops are joining the new revolutionary movement, the cablegram said, and Diaz is in control of one-fourth of Mexico. Salina Cruz is reported to have been taken by General Andreu Almazan, who is planning to move upon Puerto Mexico next.

Washington, March 4.—Secretary of Labor Wilson has appointed a commission to investigate and report on the wage rate and conditions of employment on the construction work of the Alaskan railway.

Miner Killed by Electric Wire.

Princeton, Ind., March 4.—Earl Stewart, age twenty-six, a driver in the Princeton mine, was killed when a car jumped the track and pinned him against an electric wire. He was dead before he could be released. A widow and a small child survive.

MAILS BY THE AIR PLEASE AVIATORS

Expert Describes Machines Government Would Need.

TO CONQUER WINTER'S ICE.

Routes in Alaska and Massachusetts Could Be Covered in All Kinds of Weather With Aviation Service—Officials Think a Tremendous Amount of Money Would Be Saved.

Aviators of the country are looking with pleasure toward the scheme that the United States proposes to conquer the rigors of Massachusetts bay and ice imprisoned Alaska in order to get the mails through to sections that are usually isolated during the winter. The postoffice department has asked bids for contracts and machines to carry the mails in these sections.

If this plan proves successful it will go far to determine the practical use of aeroplanes in wartime, and the United States is said to be utilizing this scheme to determine the best kind of air craft for use during conflicts.

Charles A. Wright of Riverton, N. J., is the president of the Aviation league, which trains young men to fly. He is an enthusiast in aviation and regards the proposed federal mail scheme as a sane way to carry the mails, but he takes issue with the federal bids in calling for aeroplanes of the description included in the proposals.

Heavier Machines Needed.

"This plan is workable," said Mr. Wright, "but the government should at least be prepared to spend $5 a mile on the experiment. However, to carry such mails as Uncle Sam wishes the government must construct heavier machines than any that are in use in this country."

"Only one machine was ever built in this country that would fulfill the requirements—the America, built by Rodman Wanamaker to cross the Atlantic. This machine has a carrying capacity of 4,500 pounds, which is 1,500 in excess of that demanded by the government. The America cost $90,000 to build. This makes the cost of a suitable machine alone three times as great as the United States wishes to pay."

"The practical use of the aeroplane as a commercial factor is in the air, so to speak. It costs too much to use them in this way just now, though in the European war they are demonstrating their value in every possible manner, especially in being the men-of-war of the air."

R. W. Knight, vice president of the Aviation league, coincided with President Wright's remarks, but added that it would be an easy matter to get plenty of machines that could transport 500 pounds of mail easily.

Routes and Service.

The routes and character of service now advertised and the cost of the present service follows:

MASSACHUSETTS.

From New Bedford by Wood's Hole and Oak Bluffs to Nantucket, fifty-six miles and return, thirteen times a week from June 15 to Sept. 14 and six times a week during the remaining nine months of the year; weight limit, 3,000 pounds per trip; cost of present service, $23,000 a year.

ALASKA.

From Valdez to Fairbanks, 258 miles, three times a week all the year for transportation of 1,600 (or 3,000) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $127,580 a year.

From Fairbanks to Tanana, 162 miles, three times a week all the year, for transportation of 1,000 (or 2,000) pounds of mail each trip; running time, twenty-four hours; cost of present service, $23,153.84 a year.

From Tanana to Kaltag, 281 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 800 (or 1,600) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $37,723.49 a year.

From Kaltag to Nome, 225 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 600 (or 1,200) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $15,960 a year.

From Seward to Iditarod, 380 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 1,000 (or 2,000) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $22,865 a year.

From Iditarod to Nome, 280 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 800 (or 1,600) pounds of mail each trip; running time, two days; cost of present service, $34,862.12 a year.

From Seward to Anchorage, 110 miles, twice a week all the year, for transportation of 500 (or 1,000) pounds of mail each trip; running time, ten hours; cost of present service, $4,320 a year.

If the exacting weather conditions and weight requirements of the Massachusetts route can be met by aerial carriers it presents an excellent opportunity for improvement of mail service by these means.

Need of improvement of the Alaskan mail service is clear, and it is believed the aeroplane offers a practical means of providing better facilities there.

CHAMBERLAIN

CHAPTER XXVII

The peripatetic, pathogenic agent of malarial fever possesses the prime attribute of a bad penny—it comes back. Alan had often fatted himself to receive the prodigal, and he was not now at a loss to account for the sudden lassitude, the deadened palate and the truant sense of smell that had come upon him. He turned to Mrs. J. Y. "I'm afraid I'll have to lie down. I hate to be a nuisance, but I've got a touch of fever." To the initiated "a touch of fever" means anything from a slight indisposition to a knockout blow delivered below the belt. It is the sole phrase of confession recognized by the malarial cult. Happily for Alan, the expression on this occasion was no euphemism. He was suffering from a touch of fever, and nothing more, brought on by too continued exertion. He was shown to his room, his old room with its old-fashioned, many-paned windows, its enormous closet and, under recent coatings of white enamel paint, the many marks with which in boyhood he and his forbears had branded the ancient woodwork.

"My Boy, You Have Been Far Away."

A flutter and then a sigh of disappointment went through Maple House at Alan's immediate eclipse. The children foresaw an order for silence or a veto on the afternoon's excursion to the lake. J. Y. became restless and wandered noiselessly about from room to room. Clem sat in the great window and dreamed and listened for Alan's bell. She would not go to the lake. The children were solemnly grave and then giggling by fits and starts.

The Eltons had come back from abroad. From Elm House Cousin Frances Elton, commonly known as Tom, short for tomboy, came racing across the lawn waving towel and bathing clothes and in a high treble giving a creditable imitation of an Indian warwhoop. At Tom's cry the children stampeded on to the veranda with sibilant cries of, "Shshsh!" Mrs. J. Y. looked at Nance and Nance smiled resignedly. They put away their work, ordered the wagonette and the colts—colts no longer, alas, save in name—and departed with a wagonload of suppressed youth. From Long lane floated back peals of young laughter, breaking bounds as the overhanging trees hid the hill from view.

Clem sat on the vast window seat and toyed with a book. J. Y. came and dropped down beside her. "Well, Clem, he's come back."

Clem nodded. "Are you sure he doesn't want anything, Uncle John? He hasn't had a thing to eat since seven o'clock this morning."

Alan's bell tinkled. Clem started to her feet and then sat down again. "You'd better go." But when J. Y. strode off she followed.

"Why is the house so quiet? Is it on account of the captain?" asked Alan.

"Bless you, no. The captain sleeps for a week at a time. The children have gone over to the lake."

"I just wanted to tell you that I like their noises—they're new. There's nothing really the matter with me except that I've got to take things in turn, and lying still and sweating comes first. After that, perhaps tomorrow, I'm going to eat. The penultimate act on my list is a cigarette and the ultimate is to get up in the old belfry and yell." He turned over and sank his head into the pillows.

"All right, my boy," said J. Y., smiling. "There's only Clem and myself here and we'll go and try to make noises like the children." He came out of the door in time to catch sight of Clem's skirt as it whisked around the corner of the hall. He followed and found her already seated at the piano. Her fingers wandered over the keys and then her soft, full voice broke out in one old song after another. She was happy because she felt that singing she was with Alan.

Alan stirred in his bed and listened. He determined that tomorrow he must be well. Robbed of this afternoon, he was being robbed of half of life. He cursed the fever and then, as he felt how near Clem's voice brought her to him, he blessed it.

At night when all the rest of the household had gone to bed, J. Y. softly opened Alan's door and looked in. Alan was awake and nodded. J. Y. came in and pattered about the room. He rolled a bit of paper into an ampler shade and further veiled the night lamp. The lines in J. Y.'s rugged face were softened to lines of sweetness. He asked if there were nothing he could do and then turned to leave the room. With his hand on the door, he paused and smiled down on Alan. "My boy, you have been far, far away."

"Far away," replied Alan drowsily, "but I have come back."

The bracing air of Red Hill and a long night's sleep enabled Alan to keep his word with himself. He was up and out on the day following his arrival, but he still felt delightfully lazy and pitifully weak. Clem took charge of him. First she tried to settle him in a hammock with many pillows, but Alan shrank from the hammock. They spread rugs instead in a nook under the trees, and Alan stretched himself out amid a riot of many-colored cushions, while Clem sat close by in a low rocking chair and talked and read and talked.

Talking or reading, Clem was a source of unvarying delight to Alan. Was it possible that one could live twenty years in an old world, rub elbows with life for twenty years, and remain so fresh, so untainted? His own life rose up before him and mocked at him. Was it possible that one could live thirty years in this same world and be so old? He shrugged a shoulder petulantly. He would not think—he refused to think while he was so weak.

When Clem talked, it was like a child dreaming aloud; when she was silent one felt the presence of womanhood, wise with the unconscious accumulations of generations and unabashed. When Clem talked Alan was at ease, but when she was silent he was moved—troubled. A scarred man may play with a child and no harm to either. He can detach himself from his past as from the child and at a safe moral distance turn to watch its unconscious gambols. But with a woman it is different. Womanhood is a force; its mission to embrace, to sacrifice. It is unreasonable. Like fundamental man it demands a god and worships the god that comes to its need. Alan felt this force hovering in Clem's silences and was troubled.

The subjectivity of a sick man disarms woman; she knows she is safe and abandons her weapons of attack and defense as long as the invalid is taken up with the state of his insides. Clem was unaffected, even tender, with Alan as long as he was weak, but as his strength returned to him she with drew, one by one and gently, the intimate attentions a woman accords to babes and the related helplessness. But there was nothing absolute in her withdrawal; it was more a temptation than a denial, born of woman's innate desire to be pursued. While Alan was merely convalescent it contained a suppressed gayety, half demure, half mischief, but when his full strength came back and he failed to pursue, the gayety arrested itself, turned into a questioning wistfulness and ended in the secret shame and blushes of the repulsed and undesired.

Clem saw Alan build a barrier against her, a barrier of little things, each insignificant in itself but each lending and borrowing the strength of accumulation. Alan spent hours with the old captain, walked, rode and talked with J. Y. and the judge. Between them, J. Y. and the judge had fixed up Lieber's affair and Alan had cabled.

In the midst of women Alan seemed to be able to forget woman—to forget her intentionally. There was nothing pointed in his avoidance. He kept his distance from Alix and Nance and Jane Elton in the same measure as from Clem. There was thus none of the single avoidance of the shy swain who lavishes attentions on all but her whom he would most dearly love. Clem, least vain of beautiful women, sat long hours before her glass. Never before had the charms it revealed been questioned, never had she been forced to close in the ranks and call up the reserves, and now she felt at a loss, unaccustomed to the ready moves of the coquette. Clem dropped her face in her hands and cried.

Rallied From Operation.

Col. S. S. Stockdell, who underwent an operation for the amputation of his left arm at the Schneck Memorial Hospital Friday, rallied from the operation and while he is very weak it is stated that his condition is as much as could be expected. On Thursday Mr. Stockdell celebrated his eighty-third birthday anniversary. The operation was decided upon as the one thing that would prolong his life although it was realized that because of his age and condition it was extremely dangerous. He has suffered great pain during the past few weeks and it is hoped that the operation will relieve the agony which he has endured. Mr. Stockdell broke his left arm in a fall several months ago and blood poison developed. The arm was amputated midway between the elbow and shoulder.

Mrs. Florence Snodgrass, advance representative of the Metropolitan Concert Co., of New York, which is to be heard at the Majestic next Thursday, March 9, arrived in the city this morning and has commenced the delivery of tickets. Many music lovers from out of town, have written for information about the concert, and many nearby towns will be represented in the audience.

The Metropolitan company is returning from an engagement at the Panama Pacific Exposition and in its tour has visited the larger cities in California, Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee, where in every instance the artists have been received most enthusiastically. Among a collection of press comments on the present tour of the company that would require several columns, especially commendatory are those from such papers as the Fresno, Cal. Republican, San Bernardino, Cal. Daily Sun, El Paso, Tex. Morning Times, Tuscan, Ariz., Citizen and the Phoenix, Ariz., Republican.

Seymour will be one of the last cities to hear the entire Metropolitan Company, as the tour closes a few days later and the artists will fill separate engagements thereafter.

The Wild Pigeon.

A news item clipped from a Cincinnati paper published fifty years ago—March 4, 1866—states that vast droves of wild pigeons passed over that city throughout the day, flying in a westerly course. Many citizens now residing in Seymour can recall the days when wild pigeons were so numerous as to be regarded as a nuisance. They moved about in great hordes feeding upon beechnuts and acorns as they fell to the earth. At night the pigeons would congregate in the trees to roost, and they would frequently break the tree branches by their combined weight. The large tracts of oak, beech and other mast-bearing trees that existed in Jackson county at that time, were favorite feeding grounds for the pigeons, and they occasionally remained throughout the winter, departing for their nesting asylums in the early spring. The wild pigeon disappeared from this county in 1878. The last known specimen of the bird recently died of old age in the Cincinnati "zoo."

Not only the wild pigeon has disappeared along with the beautiful woodlands that once adorned the landscape of Jackson county, but song birds of a hundred species, and many of the native wild flowers that once grew in rich profusion at the edge of woods and orchards have followed.

As everyone knows, the bowels are the sewerage system of the body, and it is of the greatest importance that they move once each day. If your bowels become constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets just after supper and they will correct the disorder. Obtainable everywhere.

WHY not give your lad the same training?

"When I was a growing lad, and came upon many words in my reading that I did not understand, my mother, instead of giving me the definition when I applied to her, uniformly sent me to the dictionary to learn it, and in this way I gradually learned many things besides the meaning of the individual word in question—among other things, how to use a dictionary, and the great pleasure and advantage there might be in the use of the dictionary. Afterwards, when I went to the village school, my chief diversion, after lessons were learned and before they were recited, was in turning over the pages of the 'Unabridged' of those days. Now the most modern Unabridged—the NEW INTERNATIONAL—gives me a pleasure of the same sort. So far as my knowledge extends, it is at present the best of the one-volume dictionaries, and quite sufficient for all ordinary uses. Even those who possess the splendid dictionaries in several volumes will yet find it a great convenience to have this, which is so compact, so full, and so trustworthy as to leave, in most cases, little to be desired."—Albert S. Cook, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of the English Language and Literature, Yale Univ. April 28, 1911.

A sentence to walk forty miles to Washington was imposed on a man arrested in Baltimore for begging.
The ninety-eighth operation is to be performed on a Youkers woman, who started the habit nine years ago, when she had appendicitis.
In a race between a snowslide and a passenger train in Colorado the slide won and tore a coach from the train, but hurt only one person.
A man who has lost his singing voice always gets it back after becoming a proud father, so he can sing to Snooks, a Philadelphia psychologist says.
"Why don't you go back and fight?" a Baltimore judge asked an English vagrant. "Got bad teeth," explained the prisoner. "I said 'fight,' not 'bite,'" retorted the judge.
While one operated a movie camera, thieves with truck stripped home of absent Monongahela theatrical man of $3,000 in furnishings, telling servants it was "movie burglary," authorized by owner.
HOW JEWISH RELIEF FUNDS ARE EXPENDED IN EUROPE
Committee Tells of Its Work in Various Zones of War.

How the millions of dollars raised by the American Jewish relief committee are being distributed among the Jewish war sufferers in the various countries of Europe is shown in a preliminary statement issued by the committee. The statement has been compiled as an answer to inquiries as to the manner of distribution and the reliability of the persons co-operating with the committee in the war zone.
Russia has so far received $1,085,000 of this money, the amount having been sent through Kuhn, Loeb & Co. to the Azov Don bank of Petrograd for the Jewish Colonization association. The money has then been turned over to the central relief committee of Petrograd, which is composed of 100 representatives of the Jewish community there. Before the evacuation of Russian Poland, Lithuania, etc., by the Russian troops the relief was distributed through the 600 co-operative societies established by the Colonization association in the various towns and villages. These societies had been serving the Jewish people as savings and loan associations and were well adapted to the distribution of relief.
To Germany, German Poland, etc., $600,000 has thus far been sent to M. M. Warburg & Co. of Hamburg and has been expended under the direction of Das Juedische Hilfskomitee fuer Polen.
Maximilian Paul Schiff is acting as the personal representative of the American committee in Vienna, and $430,000 has been sent to him. He has distributed this amount in co-operation with the Israelitische Allianz zu Wien. The American committee has already sent to Palestine $109,243 for general relief and $5,000 for soup kitchens in Jerusalem and contributed $90,506 toward provisioning the U. S. S. Vulcan, which was sent out to Palestine as a food ship last March. Until recently all funds were forwarded to Dr. Arthur Ruppin, head of the Palastina-Amit at Jaffa, who distributed the money among various local committees. The funds are now being sent to Dr. C. A. Glazebrook, United States consul at Jerusalem. The actual work of distribution is being done by local committees jointly designated by the three American relief committees and the provisional Zionist committee.

To Eliminate Menace to Cotton.
A droll report comes from Birmingham, Ala., of the success of a cotton planter in producing a cotton plant that smells so strongly of asafetida that all insects avoid it. The result was obtained by sprinkling several generations of the plant with nux vomica. It is hoped that the new plant has solved the boll weevil problem by depriving the weevil of its food.

ANNA BELLE Visits Grandpa's In Wintertime

Dear Friends:—You know my grandparents live out in the country and of course I like to visit them whenever I can. However, this is the first time I've ever visited them when it was cold and a light snow on the ground. "The March wind blew up a little mischief," grandpa said as the snow collected on the windshield of his machine. We made the run from the station in quick time, as it is only three miles and of course grandma was waiting to greet me. I tell you I don't believe I ever knew a boy or girl who didn't like to visit grandma and grandpa. Somehow they seem to understand us young people better than any one and tell what we most enjoy without even asking us. My, don't you like to roam around up in the attic and see the old spinning wheels and many other interesting things?

I wonder how you're doing in SEWING SOCIETY work? Only last week I sent out a great bunch of Certificates to interested boys and girls who have joined our happy band. What did you think of our "Potato Day" stunt? Everybody thinks it a fine idea and it gives every one a chance to help the poor. If you haven't sent for your Certificate of Membership why not do so now? Just sit down and address me care this paper, enclose a two-cent stamp for postage and I'll be glad to send you one. With best wishes for success in the great work and much love from,

Anna Belle
